Warning: misleading people about the benefits of e-cigarettes is logically and morally equivalent to misleading people about the harms of smoking

A new discussion paper on e-cigarettes has come out in Australia. “Options to minimise the risks associated with the marketing and use of electronic nicotine delivery systems [ENDS] in Australia” by Professor Chapman and some of his following at the University of Sydney. [PDF - 8.5Mb or via Scribd as embedded below or linked here].

Well, when I say it has “come out”, I really mean it has been liberated from the walled garden of hand-picked consultees who are supposed to be discussing it.

This discussion paper is provided for the purposes of informing the consultation by invitation only, please do not distribute or circulate this paper to other parties.

In other words. Know. Your. Place.

Terry Barnes has written a nice piece giving some background: Regulating e-cigarettes: read all about it!

Read below and discuss freely!
