E-cigs: man talks sense

written by Clive Bates | 8 April 2013

Dave Dorn of VapourTrails TV – an e-cigarette user and enthusiast – explains e-cigs and goes through some commonly held misconceptions.

That would be especially misconceptions of the type held by one Tom Riddington of The Guardian, who wrote a ridiculous article about e-cigarettes, to which this video is a response. Dr Riddington apparently specialises in "medical ethics and healthcare politics". It is unethical to mislead people about e-cigarettes.
