written by Clive Bates | 10 September 2021

I had an excellent conversation with Ethan Nadelmann, the founder of the New York-based Drug Policy Alliance for his outstanding Psychoactive podcast series about all aspects of drugs and drugs policy, which I highly recommend.

In this episode, “The E-cigarette revolution”, we covered vaping, nicotine, harm reduction - science, policy, politics and controversy - with Ethan as host putting the challenging questions. Listen via your usual podcast provider (search on Psychoactive)... or via these links.
